Dear Friends,

Happy New Year to all of you!

Many years ago the British used to say: “The sun never sets on the British empire!” Their empire covered areas across the globe making the statement more or less true during that era. Now, in the work of Teen Challenge, we can say the same thing. Only, our boast is not in any human institution, but in the work of God across the globe. The sun truly NEVER sets on Teen Challenge. Somewhere in the world at any given time, a TC student is praying, a team is on the streets evangelizing, and drug addicts are finding hope and freedom through a relationship with Jesus Christ. Worldwide, TC is in more than 105 countries — 39 of them are in Europe.

All of us are mindful that we could never complete this great task before us without the faithful support and prayers of friends like you. Terry and I began our work as missionaries in 1979 and have never lacked for anything we needed. We are so thankful for your continued faithfulness as we continue the task God gave to us.

Our hope and prayer is the God will abundantly bless all of you richly in 2017! As always, you can keep updated by checking out the websites: www.teenchallenge.eu and www.eoinc.org

God Bless,
